By JOSEPH MORTON
U. S. 15th Air Force Headquarters, Italy, April 10 (AP)—A 27-year-old Kentucky farm youth told an amazing story today of falling 19,000 feet in the dismembered tail of a Flying Fortress which landed in a tree top—and thinking he was dead.

Air Force surgeons said Sgt. James A. Raley, Route Three, Henderson, Ky., is little the worse for his experience, except for a cut on the chin. This is the story of the modest, almost shy airman, as told from a hospital bed.

"It happened on my 13th mission. I thought about that going down—about that time I was telling myself 'in another few minutes I'll be dead.'"

"Long Way Home"

"A lot of the details I can't talk about, but I can say it was a long way from home. I was still in the tail gun, looking out. The navigator had just called the altitude—19,500 feet. He was going into a fog bank. Then it came.

"There was a hell of a jolt. The plane seemed to stop. It shook all over with a terrific tearing sound and I found myself on my face. The ammunition case and a lot of broken parts were pinning me down. I thought it was all over because there was no chance to get out.

"Looking back I saw a B-17 going down with the wings in flame. It occurred to me that we had collided with it. I couldn't see too much because I was in a closed compartment, but I knew we were spinning around because patches of blue, green and brown kept flashing past.

Expected Death

"All I was able to do was blink my eyes, but I realized we were going down at a terrific rate of speed and that in a few minutes I would be dead.

"I thought the whole ship was intact by the way it was twisting around and the time it was taking us to get down. I was praying too.

"The impact when we struck the ground was cushioned, and there was a slushing sound. I knew we had hit a tree. I got the idea I was a dead man. I didn't lose consciousness, but my eyes were closed.

POLICE SOLVE TWO HIT-RUN CRASHES TODAY

Pvt. Harold Sheads proved this morning that "a home town boy" with the "assistance of a little luck" can solve hit and run accidents on the county's highways.

Private Sheads, Hanover street, who was transferred to the local sub-station of the state motor police, April 1, after eight years at various other stations in this area, started the investigation of one hit and run accident Sunday evening. This morning he was called to investigate another hit and run collision. Both occurred on the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg road about three miles apart.

By noon today both of the hit and run drivers had been apprehended.

The first accident occurred at 10:25 o'clock Sunday evening at the Peach Orchard when a car side-swiped an auto driven by Miss Vonalea M. Farling, Elizabethtown. She was driving north, when a car going south got too far across the center of the highway and hit her vehicle. After the accident the other car continued.

Driver Is Jailed

This morning Private Sheads was driving from the scene of the accident towards Gettysburg when he saw a car headed south with a damaged fender and a missing hub cap. A few minutes later Hans Gellings, Bay Shore, New York, was charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with failure to stop at the scene of an accident. In default of $500 bond he was confined to the county jail for a hearing. Gellings told Officer Sheads he stayed in (Please Turn to Page 2)

AIR CORPS TO UTILIZE LOCAL FLYING STAFF

The Army Air Forces plans to utilize the flying experience of the flight instructors at the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics who can qualify in several categories of flight personnel subject to prevailing standards, it was officially learned today.

John P. Morris, director of the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the War Training Services, informed Richard Birch, owner-operator of the local airport of the new plans of the Air Corps.

Instructors will be used in the following branches:

Combat pilots with necessary consideration to be given in individual cases allowing for the by-passing of intermediate courses of such trainings.

Pilots in the Army Transport Command, ferrying division.

Glider pilots.

Navigators or bombardiers; radio operators, aerial gunners and other combat crew positions.

Other Preference

Those not electing or not qualifying for any of the above air crew categories may request discharge from the Enlisted Reserve Corps or request call to active duty with the Army Air Forces with an opportunity of selecting available and suitable phase of ground training.

The Army Air Force said: "The civilian instructors who have participated in our training program have done an excellent job which is sincerely appreciated by the Army Air Forces. We will see that enlisted reservists are given every opportunity to serve in these capacities for which they are professionally and physically qualified."

HALT DRAFTING OF SELECTEES "26 AND OLDER"

Adams county's two draft boards will not be affected by the new Selective Service order instructing them not to call for induction of men 26 years of age and older so far as this month's quota is concerned. Both boards have already sent their men for the current call. Local boards have not received instructions with regard to men classified 4-F.

Pittsburgh, April 10 (AP)—Effective tomorrow midnight, induction of essentially employed men over 26 must be halted "until further notice," State Selective Service Director Col. Richard K. Mellon notified Pittsburgh and Allegheny county draft boards today.

The order also affects pre-induction examinations for men over 26 who are "making a contribution to essential agricultural, war production, or war supporting activities," local draft officials said.

However, regardless of age or occupation, inductees will go to camp or be given pre-induction examinations as scheduled today and tomorrow, the order explained.

Want Young Men

Harrisburg, April 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 422 local draft boards will receive new orders today which temporarily halt induction of registrants 26 and older.

State Selective Service headquarters said the new orders were sent out Saturday and should be in the hands of the boards when they open for business this morning.

Col. John McI. Smith, deputy state director of the Selective Service, said the boards have been ordered to change their induction system to conform with the newly-announced national policies of postponing induction for a time of all men 26 and older—who are in jobs making a contribution to the war.

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The nation's 6,400 draft boards—with the older potential inductees stayed temporarily from the call—began a rush today to get men under 26 into combat training to replace coming battle casualties.

Essential Activities

Although the Army has reached its planned strength of 7,700,000, the "peak" will be exceeded in April to build up a reserve for the needed replacements.

It was reported that Manpower Chief Paul McNutt was ready to present to Major General Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, a list of 13 activities in which some deferments are recommended for "key" men under 26.

Meanwhile potential draftees of all ages were advised to consult their local boards if they are in any doubt as to their status and 4-F's who are not now in essential work were told to seek advice from the U. S. Employment Service as to available jobs in winning-the-war work.

Prefers Farm To London

(Special to The Times)
Ninth USAAF Headquarters, England, April 10—Cpl. Howard L. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, doesn't believe the implications of the popular ditty of the last war, "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?"

"It's true I was a farmer in civilian life and I've been to London—this war's equivalent of gay Paree—but there'll be no difficulty keeping me on the farm after this business is over."

Cpl. Miller is an assistant in the supply section of this headquarters. He entered the service in August, 1943. His wife, Ruth, is taking care of the farm during the corporal's absence.

BRONZE MEDAL IS AWARDED TO CPL. D. B. STOOPS

Cpl. Daniel B. Stoops is among the first members of the U.S. army in the Italian theater to receive the Bronze Star medal, a new decoration recently authorized by Congress, it was learned today.

In a letter to his wife at her home, 113 Carlisle street, Corporal Stoops enclosed a copy of the citation he received awarding him the Bronze Star medal the first of which, according to news reports, were presented in the Italian theater of war Saturday.

It is not known at present whether Corporal Stoops received the medal at that time. In his letter to his wife he said that while he had been given the citation awarding him the medal, the medal itself would be given "in the near future." The letter was sent about two weeks ago.

Official Citation

The citation to Corporal Stoops reads in part, "In the field, March 16, . . . you are awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in direct support of combat operations with counter-battery section 11 corps from 17 November, 1943, to 25 February, 1944. Corporal Stoops performed in a meritorious manner, the duty of file clerk, . . . assigned as a draughtsman and later took over, in addition, the duties of file clerk. Through perseverance and attention to duty, . . . Stoops aided in the establishment of a system of filing hostile battery information. He, on his own initiative, suggested changes in the procedure that greatly aided the efficiency of record keeping. By working long hours under difficult conditions he kept up-to-date information available at all times for the use of the counter-battery officers in delivering fire on enemy artillery. He also trained, during combat operations, other clerks to carry on the work in an efficient and accurate manner. The material contained in the files . . . became the basis of counter-battery fire and in many critical instances furnished the necessary information to enable the counter-battery officer to place accurate fire on enemy batteries."

Cpl. Stoops, who was employed at the Landis Tool company at Waynesboro before entering service, has been overseas 15 months.

He entered military service from Chambersburg three years ago and was attached to the field artillery. He landed in Africa December 26, 1942 and then went to Sicily in July. He has been in Italy since October.

The Gettysburg fire company was called Saturday evening about 5:45 o'clock to extinguish a grass fire to the north of West Broadway.

Germans Driven From Odessa By Surging Soviets

By JAMES M. LONG
London, April 10 (AP)—Odessa, greatest port on the Black sea and first major prize of Hitler's invasion of Russia, has fallen to the striding Red army rapidly planting its banners along the Russian state frontiers, Berlin announced today.

Evacuation of the port and naval base was acknowledged by the German command, which also declared the Russians were striking out in an apparent full-blown offensive to clear the Crimea. The communique broadcast from Berlin said heavy fighting was in progress on a broad front from the Sivash to the Perekop sectors on the north side of the Crimea isthmus and the Russians were penetrating the garrison lines.

Last March Out of Russia

Cut off from all but sea communications, in the same way that the Odessa force was almost isolated, it seemed that the Germans and Rumanians in the Crimea might be forced to yield the last of the strong Black sea outposts guarding the Rumanian sea flank.

The evacuation of Odessa—carried out, the Germans said, after long-planned destruction of military installations—was a sensational step in the German's last-mile march out of southern Russia.

Odessa, only a little more than 20 miles inside the 1939 Russian border, was captured by the Germans two and a half years ago after a two-months' defense by besieged Russian soldiers, workers and marines who made their stand amidst the rubble and lagoons. The pre-war population of Odessa was 600,000.

It was the first of the dramatic sieges of Russian cities—Sevastopol, Leningrad and Stalingrad—that have marked the war.

Nazis Flee "Death Stand"

It had been expected that the Germans would make a similar death stand there in the current retreat.

But the Swift Russian advance struck down southwest of the city almost slicing it off, and the Germans—by their own account—had no stomach for such a siege as the Russians endured.

Moscow declared that one Red army column had smashed to a railway station three miles north of Odessa yesterday and that another, sweeping 11 miles southwest of the port, had seized Mariantal, only five miles from the Odessa-Ovidiopol railway, the only retreat road for the thousands of Nazis and Rumanians defending the city.

The Russians were only eight miles from Ovidiopol itself, a bottleneck ferry terminus on this railway, and their guns commanded both the rail stretch and vulnerable ferry point.

Take 200 More Villages

Liberation of the strategic city, taken by the Germans at heavy cost in October, 1941, only four months after they launched the invasion of Russia, came as other Soviet forces invading Rumania over-ran 200 more villages, and virtually isolated the railroad of Iasi.

Recent estimates placed the number of Germans and Rumanians in Odessa at 100,000 to 200,000.

The German broadcast declared installations were destroyed last week, and that "all our war material was taken with us."

It declared also that Germans trapped above Razdelnaya, Russian-held rail town 45 miles northwest of Odessa, had pushed their way out, saying the "Russians have also unsuccessfully attempted to interfere with our disengagement movements" there.

Several Nazi Divisions Trapped

Five or six broken German divisions were trapped in this sector, Moscow had announced, with 5,000 of them killed in two days.

Odessa was one of the greatest prizes of Hitler's first year of invasion, and was bitterly defended by the Russians.

Farther northwest, Moscow reported another 2,400 Germans slaughtered in the diminishing Skala pocket, and front dispatches said the Russians were pushing beyond the Czechoslovak border near the entrance to the Tatar pass, key to the Hungarian plain.

In the fifth erupting action, Berlin declared the Red army had renewed attacks at the northern bridgeheads into the Crimean peninsula where 100,000 Nazi and Rumanian troops still hold out.

Free French

Algiers, April 10 (AP)—General Charles de Gaulle was confronted with a direct challenge to his authority as president of the French Committee of National Liberation today as Gen. Henri Giraud stood firm on his refusal to accept dismissal as commander-in-chief of the French armed forces.

Giraud's stand apparently left the next move in the contest between the two generals squarely up to De Gaulle, but there was no indication of the latter's probable course of action. The situation was further confused by the assertion of some of Giraud's followers that several members of the Liberation committee had threatened to resign in an expression of sympathy with him.

Services Largely Attended On Easter

Despite dreary weather and light drizzles that fell intermittently during the morning, church services here Easter were well attended. New spring bonnets were in abundance despite the weather man's effort to curb flaunting of new creations.

Services throughout the day were well attended and the same prevailed in churches in the rural areas.

By midafternoon the weather had cleared, followed by a thunder shower and clearing skies and warm weather in the evening.

G. F. JEFFCOAT EXPIRES TODAY

The deceased was born in Franklinton township, a son of the late John and Catherine (Shultz) Jeffcoat. He was a farmer all of his life. For a number of years he was a school director in Mt. Joy township. Mr. Jeffcoat was a member of the Salem United Brethren church.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Annie E. Shultz, with whom he would have observed his 53rd wedding anniversary May 24; five children, Clarence, Gettysburg; Mrs. William Wolf, New Oxford; Mrs. Howard Bollinger, Two Taverns; Mrs. Albert Geyer, Harrisburg; (Please Turn to Page 2)

Captain Rhoads Gets Purple Heart

Captain John P. Rhoads, a battalion surgeon with an anti-aircraft unit on the Anzio beachhead in Italy, was awarded the Purple Heart on March 16, according to word received by his wife, the former Miss Janet Ott, 222 Springs avenue.

In a letter dated March 24, Captain Rhoads revealed he had been "injured" but did not reveal the extent of his wounds.

Captain Rhoads, who was a practicing physician here for several years, entered the service in August, 1942. He was stationed at Camp Stewart, Georgia, until going overseas in March, 1943.

Captain Rhoads participated in the Salerno landing and the crossing of the Volturno river.

POLICE SOLVE
TWO HIT-RUN
CRASHES TODAY

Pvt. Harold Sheads proved this morning that "a home town boy" with the "assistance of a little luck" can solve hit and run accidents on the county's highways.

Private Sheads, Hanover street, who was transferred to the local sub-station of the state motor police, April 1, after eight years at various other stations in this area, started the investigation of one hit and run accident Sunday evening.
This morning he was called to investigate another hit and run collision. Both occurred on the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg road about three miles apart.

By noon today both of the hit and run drivers had been apprehended.

The first accident occurred at 10:25 o'clock Sunday evening at the Peach Orchard when a car sideswiped an auto driven by Miss Vo-nalea M. Farling, Elizabethtown.
She was driving north, when a car going south got too far across the center of the highway and hit her vehicle. After the accident the other car continued.

Driver Is Jailed
This morning Private Sheads was driving from the scene of the accident towards Gettysburg when he saw a car headed south with a damaged fender and a missing hub cap.
A few minutes later Hans Gellings, Bay Shore, New York, was charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder for failure to stop at the scene of an accident. In default of $500 bond he was confined to the county jail for a hearing. Gellings told Officer Sheads he stayed in

AIR CORPS TO UTILIZE LOCAL FLYING STAFF

The Army Air Forces plans to utilize the flying experience of the flight instructors at the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics who can qualify in several categories of flight personnel subject to prevailing standards, it was officially learned today.

John P. Morris, director of the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the War Training Services, informed Richard Bircher, owner-operator of the local airport of the new plans of the Air Corps.

Instructors will be used in the following branches:
Combat pilots with necessary consideration to be given in individual cases allowing for the by-passing of intermediate courses of such trainings.

Pilots in the Army Transport Command, ferrying division.
Glider pilots.
Navigators or bombardiers; radio operators, aerial gunners and other combat crew positions.

Other Preference
Those not electing or not qualifying for any of the above air crew categories may request discharge from the Enlisted Reserve Corps or request call to active duty with the Army Air Forces with an opportunity of selecting available and suitable phase of ground training.

The Army Air Force said: "The civilian instructors who have participated in our training program have done an excellent job which is sincerely appreciated by the Army Air Forces. We will see that enlisted reservists are given every opportunity to serve in these capacities for which they are professionally and physically qualified."

HALT DRAFTING OF SELECTEES
"26 AND OLDER"

Adams county's two draft boards will not be affected by the new Selective Service order instructing them not to call for induction of men 26 years of age and older so far as this month's quota is concerned.
Both boards have already sent their men for the current call.
Local boards have not received instructions with regard to men classified 4-F.

Pittsburgh, April 10 (AP)—Effective tomorrow midnight, induction of essentially employed men over 26 must be halted "until further notice," State Selective Service Director Col. Richard K. Mellon notified Pittsburgh and Allegheny county draft boards today.

The order also affects pre-induction examinations for men over 26 who are "making a contribution to essential agricultural, war production, or war supporting activities," local draft officials said.

However, regardless of age or occupation, inductees will go to camp or be given pre-induction examinations as scheduled today and tomorrow, the order explained.

Want Young Men
Harrisburg, April 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 422 local draft boards will receive new orders today which temporarily halt induction of registrants 26 and older.

State Selective Service headquarters said the new orders were sent out Saturday and should be in the hands of the boards when they open for business this morning.

Col. John McI. Smith, deputy state director of the Selective Service, said the boards have been ordered to change their induction system to conform with the newly-announced national policies of postponing induction for a time of all men 26 and older who are in jobs making a contribution to the war.

Washington, April 10 (AP)—The nation's 6,400 draft boards—with the older potential inductees stayed temporarily from the call—began a rush today to get men under 26 into combat training to replace coming battle casualties.

Essential Activities
Although the Army has reached its planned strength of 7,700,000, the "peak" will be exceeded in April to build up a reserve for the needed replacements.

It was reported that Manpower Chief Paul McNutt was ready to present to Major General Lewis B.
Hershey, draft director, a list of 13 activities in which some deferments are recommended for "key" men under 26.

Meanwhile potential draftees of all ages were advised to consult their local boards if they are in any doubt as to their status and 4-F's who are not now in essential work were told to seek advice from the U. S. Employment Service as to available jobs in winning-the-war work.

LEON WIZELMAN

Prefers Farm
To London

(Special To The Times)

Ninth USAAF Headquarters,
England, April 10—Cpl. Howard
L. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Leo Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, doesn't believe the implications of the popular ditty of the last war, "How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm?"

"It's true I was a farmer in civilian life and I've been to London—this war's equivalent of gay Paree—but there'll be no difficulty keeping me on the farm after this business is over."

Cpl. Miller is an assistant in the supply section of this headquarters. He entered the service in August, 1943. His wife, Ruth, is taking care of the farm during the corporal's absence.

BRONZE MEDAL IS AWARDED TO
CPL. D. B. STOOPS

Cpl. Daniel B. Stoops is among the first members of the U. S. Army in the Italian theater to receive the Bronze Star medal, a new decoration recently authorized by Congress, it was learned today.

In a letter to his wife at her home,
113 Carlisle street, Corporal Stoops enclosed a copy of the citation he received awarding him the Bronze Star medal the first of which, according to news reports, were presented in the Italian theater of war Saturday.

It is not known at present whether Corporal Stoops received the medal at that time. In his letter to his wife he said that while he had been given the citation awarding him the medal, the medal itself would be given "in the near future." The letter was sent about two weeks ago.

Official Citation

The citation to Corporal Stoops reads in part, "In the field, March 16, . . . you are awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in direct support of combat operations with counter-battery section 11 corps from 17 November, 1943, to 25 February, 1944. Corporal Stoops performed in a meritorious manner, the duty of file clerk, . . . assigned as a draughtsman and later took over, in addition, the duties of file clerk. Through perseverance and attention to duty, . . . Stoops aided in the establishment of a system of filing hostile battery information.
He, on his own initiative, suggested changes in the procedure that greatly aided the efficiency of record keeping. By working long hours under difficult conditions he kept up-to-date information available at all times for the use of the counter-battery officers in delivering fire on enemy artillery. He also trained, during combat operations, other clerks 'to carry on the work in an efficient and accurate manner. The material contained in the files . . . became the basis of counter-battery fire and in many critical instances furnished the necessary information to enable the counter-battery officer to place accurate fire on enemy batteries."

Cpl. Stoops, who was employed at the Landis Tool company at Waynesboro before entering service, has been overseas 15 months.
He entered military service from Chambersburg three years ago and was attached to the field artillery.
He landed in Africa December 26, 1942 and then went to Sicily in July. He has been in Italy since October.

Germans Driven
From Odessa By Surging Soviets

By JAMES M. LONG

London, April 10 (AP)—Odessa, greatest port on the Black sea and first major prize of Hitler's invasion of Russia, has fallen to the striding Red army rapidly planting its banners
along the Russian state frontiers, Berlin announced today.
Evacuation of the port and naval base was acknowledged
by the German command, which also declared the Russians were striking out in an apparent full-blown offensive to clear the Crimea. The communique broadcast from Berlin said
heavy fighting was in progress on a broad front from the Sivash to the Perekop sectors on the north side of the Crimea isthmus and the Russians were penetrating the garrison lines.

In Italy

Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 10 (AP)—New Zealand troops have inflicted casualties on the Germans in sudden attacks against two strongpoints at Sant'Angelo, three miles south of Cassino, headquarters announced today, while Allied troops in ruined Cassino itself were subjected to renewed violent mortar-ing and shelling.

The New Zealanders partially destroyed one of the enemy positions.
The shelling of Cassino followed days of comparative quiet in the devastated town. The increase in German activity also has included dropping of propaganda leaflets three miles north of the town and heavy shelling in the upper Rapido valley northeast of Sant'Elia.

The Germans, meanwhile, seemed to be on the move in the lower Garigliano sector of the main front.
A great deal of transport was hit by artillery fire.

In India

(By The Associated Press)

Allied headquarters conceded today the Japanese drive into India has put the Imphal plain under virtual siege and has reached the outskirts of Kohima, 35 jungle miles from the all-important Bengal-Assam supply route that feeds Allied forces in China and northern Burma.

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's communique admitted pressure on Imphal from the south has increased and added that "Allied forces are in contact with the enemy."

Kohima, 60 miles north of Imphal, has already fallen, according to Tokyo claims, but the Allied Southeast Asia Command simply reported a "small initial penetration" of Kohima's outskirts has been beaten off.

In The Air

London, April 10 (AP)—U. S. air task forces totalling 1,000 to 1,500 bombers and fighters smashed at plane factories and airfields in Belgium and France today in the third straight day of fierce bleeder blows against Nazi air power.

The Americans struck after heavy RAF night raids on rail targets at Lille and in the southern outskirts at Paris, in following-up their deep Sunday plunge against aircraft factories in Poland, east Prussia, and northeast Germany. On Saturday they bombed Brunswick airplane plants and airbases near Frankfurt, wrecking 148 Nazi planes in battle.

Today the heavy bombers hopped across the North Sea to smack the Evere and Virore plane repair works and Melsbroek airbase near Brussels, aircraft factories at Bourges about 115 miles south of Paris, and military objectives in the Pas-de-Calais area of France and elsewhere.

Free French

Algiers, April 10 (AP)—General
Charles de Gaulle was confronted with a direct challenge to his authority as president of the French Committee of National Liberation today as Gen. Henri Giraud stood firm on his refusal to accept dismissal as commander-in-chief of the French armed forces.

the next move in the contest between the two generals squarely up to De Gaulle, but there was no indication of the latter's probable course of action. The situation was further confused by the assertion of some of Giraud's followers that several members of the Liberation committee had threatened to resign in an expression of sympathy with him.

Services Largely Attended On Easter

Despite dreary weather and light drizzles that fell intermittently during the morning, church services here Easter were well attended.
New spring bonnets were in abundant despite the weather man's effort to curb flaunting of new creations.

Services throughout the day were well attended and the same pre-valled in churches in the rural areas.

By midafternoon the weather had cleared, followed by a thunder shower and clearing skies and warm weather in the evening.

London, April 10 (AP)—Odessa, greatest port on the Black sea and first major prize of Hitler's invasion of Russia, has fallen to the striding Red army rapidly planting its banners
along the Russian state frontiers, Berlin announced today.

Evacuation of the port and naval base was acknowledged
by the German command, which also declared the Russians
were striking out in an apparent full-blown offensive to clear
the Crimea. The communique broadcast from Berlin said
heavy fighting was in progress on a broad front from the Sivash to the Perekop sectors on the north side of the Crimea
isthmus and the Russians were penetrating the garrison lines.

Last March Out of Russia

Cut off from all but sea communications, in the same way that the Odessa force was almost isolated, it seemed that the Germans and Rumanians in the Crimea might be forced to yield the last of the strong Black sea outposts guarding the Rumanian sea flank.

The evacuation of Odessa—carried out, the Germans said, after long-planned destruction of military installations—was a sensational step in the German's last-mile march out of southern Russia.

Odessa, only a little more than 20 miles inside the 1939
Russian border, was captured by the Germans two and a half years ago after a two-months' defense by besieged Russian soldiers, workers and marines who made their stand amidst the rubble and lagoons. The pre-war population of Odessa was 600,000.

It was the first of the dramatic sieges of Russian cities—Sevastopol, Leningrad and Stalingrad—that have marked the war.

Nazis Flee "Death Stand"

It had been expected that the Germans would make a similar death stand there in the current retreat.

But the Swift Russian advance struck down southwest of the city almost slicing it off, and the Germans—by their own account—had no stomach for such a siege as the Russians endured.

Moscow declared that one Red army column had smashed to a railway station three miles north of Odessa yesterday and that another, sweeping 11 miles southwest of the port, had seized Mariental, only five miles from the Odessa-Ovidiopol railway, the only retreat road for the thousands of Nazis and Rumanians defending the city.

The Russians were only eight miles from Ovidiopol itself, a bottleneck ferry terminus on this railway, and their guns commanded both the rail stretch and vulnerable ferry point.

Take 200 More Villages

Liberation of the strategic city, taken by the Germans at heavy cost in October, 1941, only four months after they launched the invasion of Russia, came as other Soviet forces invading Rumania over-ran 200 more villages, and virtually isolated the railroad of Iasi.

Recent estimates placed the number of Germans and Rumanians in Odessa at 100,000 to 200,000.

The German broadcast declared installations were destroyed last week, and that "all our war material was taken with us."

It declared also that Germans trapped above Razdelnaya, Russian-held rail town 45 miles northwest of Odessa, had pushed their way out, saying the "Russians have also unsuccessfully attempted to interfere with our disengagement movements" there.

Several Nazi Divisions Trapped

Five or six broken German divisions were trapped in this sector, Moscow had announced, with 5,000 of them killed in two days.

Odessa was one of the greatest prizes of Hitler's first year of invasion, and was bitterly defended by the Russians.

Farther northwest, Moscow reported another 2,400 Germans slaughtered in the diminishing Skala pocket, and front dispatches said the Russians were pushing beyond the Czechoslovak border near the entrance to the Tatar pass, key to the Hungarian plain.

In the fifth erupting action, Berlin declared the Red army had renewed attacks at the northern bridgeheads into the Crimean peninsula where 100,000 Nazi and Rumanian troops still hold out.

FRANCE IS KEY TO STABILITY IN EUROPE: HULL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
Secretary of State Cordell Hull in his statement on foreign affairs yesterday said "it is hard to imagine a stable Europe if there is instability in its component parts, of which France is one of the most important."

Coincidentally in Algiers, there was intensification of the bitter quarrel for power between those two great Frenchmen, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, president of the French Committee of National Liberation, and Gen. Henri Giraud, commander in chief of the French Army. De Gaulle ousted his colleague from the army command, an action which Giraud has refused to recognize. If De Gaulle makes it stick, it will give him both civil and military control.

An Associated Press dispatch from Algiers says that De Gaulle's action was in effect a reassertion of his determination to force the Allies to deal with the committee as the sole provisional government for liberated France.

People May Be Divided Too
Now this imbroglio in Algiers is symptomatic of, though not necessarily related to, sharp divisions among the people of occupied France—a fact which is largely concealed from us by the Hitlerian cloak of military repression. Here we have the making of a major post-war problem for the Allies, and it may be one of the most dangerous they will have to handle.

The third French republic is dead, and we are on the verge of the rebirth of a great nation. That will not be accomplished without heavy travail.

France in pre-war days was divided into many political parties, ranging from the Communists on the extreme left to the Conservatives on the extreme right. They will figure in the creation of the new government. However, there's a far wider and more threatening cleft among the people. That is between the loyalists and those who have supported the pro-Nazi Vichy regime.

Bloodshed Ahead

The hatred between these two groups is so great that it will be a wonder if it doesn't result in bloodshed when the Axis control is broken. The loyalists underground organization already has logged down the names of a host of pro-Vichy Frenchmen who must stand trial for their lives on charges of treason. But it's a question whether in the heat of passion there will be any trials.

Thus we see the force of the reasoning in Secretary Hull's firm declaration that in order to drive the enemy from French territory "the supreme military commander (General Eisenhower) must have unfettered authority." To this Mr. Hull adds what likely will be a bitter pill for De Gaulle personally to swallow—that the French Committee of National Liberation "is, of course, not the government of France and we cannot recognize it as such." This is a direct answer to the general's efforts to secure recognition of the committee as a provisional government.

Gettysburg overnight. Sunday night he decided to go for a ride before returning. Enroute he "hit something," he said, became excited, he claimed, and continued on. This morning he was headed back to the scene to find his missing hub cap when he was nabbed. Total damage was $45. No one was injured.

The second accident occurred at about 2 a. m. today when a machine sidswiped the car of Charles Donald Rebert, Steinwehr avenue, extended which was parked in front of the Rebert home. Later this morning, Private Sheeds secured from Pvt. Richard Fisel, of Gettysburg R. 2, home on furlough from an Army camp in Arkansas the admission that he had hit Rebert's car.

No charges were filed against Fisel with information about the accident forwarded to his commanding officer for appropriate action upon his return to camp. Total damage was about $35. No one was injured.

FRANCE IS KEY TO STABILITY IN EUROPE: HULL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)
Secretary of State Cordell Hull in his statement on foreign affairs yesterday said "it is hard to imagine a stable Europe if there is instability in its component parts, of which France is one of the most important."

Coincidentally in Algiers, there was intensification of the bitter quarrel for power between those two great Frenchmen, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, president of the French Committee of National Liberation, and Gen. Henri Giraud, commander in chief of the French Army. De Gaulle ousted his colleague from the army command, an action which Giraud has refused to recognize. If De Gaulle makes it stick, it will give him both civil and military control.

An Associated Press dispatch from Algiers says that De Gaulle's action was in effect a reassertion of his determination to force the Allies to deal with the committee as the sole provisional government for liberated France.

People May Be Divided Too
Now this imbroglio in Algiers is symptomatic of, though not necessarily related to, sharp divisions among the people of occupied France—a fact which is largely concealed from us by the Hitlerian cloak of military repression. Here we have the making of a major post-war problem for the Allies, and it may be one of the most dangerous they will have to handle.

The third French republic is dead, and we are on the verge of the re-birth of a great nation. That will not be accomplished without heavy travail.

France in pre-war days was divided into many political parties, ranging from the Communists on the extreme left to the Conservatives on the extreme right. They will figure in the creation of the new government. However, there's a far wider and more threatening cleft among the people. That is between the loyalists and those who have supported the pro-Nazi Vichy regime.

Bloodshed Ahead
The hatred between these two groups is so great that it will be a wonder if it doesn't result in bloodshed when the Axis control is broken. The loyalists underground organization already has logged down the names of a host of pro-Vichy Frenchmen who must stand trial for their lives on charges of treason. But it's a question whether in the heat of passion there will be any trials.

Thus we see the force of the reasoning in Secretary Hull's firm declaration that in order to drive the enemy from French territory "the supreme military commander (General Eisenhower) must have unfettered authority." To this Mr. Hull adds what likely will be a bitter pill for De Gaulle personally to swallow—that the French Committee of National Liberation "is, of course, not the government of France and we cannot recognize it as such." This is a direct answer to the general's efforts to secure recognition of the committee as a provisional government.

Gettysburg overnight. Sunday night he decided to go for a ride before retiring. Enroute he "hit something," he said, became excited, he claimed, and continued on. This morning he was headed back to the scene to find his missing hub cap when he was nabbed. Total damage was $45. No one was injured.

The second accident occurred at about 2 a. m. today when a machine sideswiped the car of Charles Donald Rebert, Steinwehr avenue, extended, which was parked in front of the Rebert home. Later this morning, Private Sheeds secured from Pvt. Richard Fisel, of Gettysburg R. 2, home on furlough from an Army camp in Arkansas, the admission that he had hit Rebert's car.

No charges were filed against Fisel with information about the accident forwarded to his commanding officer for appropriate action upon his return to camp. Total damage was about $35. No one was injured.

Two petitions were received by the court Saturday listing candidates for the position. One petition suggested the name of Borough Officer Clark W. Staley, South Stratton street, who was appointed to take the position on the borough police left vacant by Private Guise's induction, as constable. The other petition lists George A. Hughes, who was constable of Cumberland township for more than 14 years and high constable in Gettysburg for four years, for the post.

A hearing will be held at the same time by the court on the petition filed by voters of the second ward suggesting Charles Utz as constable at the second ward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles J. Myers.

Here's a very funny thing about War Bonds

IT'S A FUNNY THING, but many people still have the wrong slant on War Bonds.

These people think that when they buy a Bond, they're giving, or donating their money to the war.

You might say they have a grin-and-bear-it attitude about all their War Bond purchases.

Well, that's a strange attitude. Because while buying Bonds is patriotic, and while it is necessary to help the Government pay for planes and tanks and guns, it is not a personal sacrifice.

In fact, buying a War Bond is just about the most advantageous thing you can possibly do with your money.

Why?

You couldn't make a safer investment. The Government itself backs every dollar you invest.

And the Government pays a good, sound rate of interest—you get $4 back for every $3 you put in.

That means that when the war is over, everybody who's been buying War Bonds will have a comfortable financial backlog—a backlog that will help him do such things as build a home, send his children to school, and travel.

And, finally, by investing the money that otherwise would be burning a hole in our pockets these days, we're helping to keep down the cost of living.

So it's a very funny thing that some people still think they're giving their money when they invest it in a War Bond.

Let's all KEEP BACKING THE ATTACK!

An Evening Thought

Every one is least known to himself, and it is very difficult for a man to know himself.—Cicero.

Just Folks

THE JOYOUS LIFE
Men make of life a mystery, as if must magic rule,
But men and women live it through, with home and church and school.
And men and women, rich or poor, or humble folk or great,
Must find their happiness themselves, and work for it and wait.
For none to endless peace is born or given a guarantee
That life, for him, from birth to death, will always happy be.

"My yoke is heavy!" so He said who viewed the world aright;
For pride lies in the heavy task and never in the light,
And joy is in the peaceful home and knowledge in the school.
There's beauty in the hills and fields and every rippling pool,
And faith is in the churches small, as in cathedrals vast,
For out of these contentment comes from first unto the last.

Since man to reason first began, for all he has enjoyed
Of ease and comfort and delight his strength has been employed.
He had to earn the better way with weariness and pain,
Be beaten back and suffer loss, but wake to try again.
And this, since then until today, has seemed to be the rule—
The joyous life must be a blend of home and church and school.

Today's Talk

ON CLEANING UP

It is a discouraging thought to carry around with one, that of something left behind. William James has expressed it well in these words: "Nothing is so fatiguing as the eternal hanging on of an uncompleted task."

Of course we cannot do many important tasks at one sitting, nor in one day, or month, or perhaps in a year. A thing worth doing often takes time, but to hang onto a task that looks hopeless, or to one that should be abandoned is the most foolish of procedures.

Cleaning up our work each day, as far as we can, without worry, is the natural way of life and should rule us in all that we do. Leaving fresh ends to the task that we do gives us zest and ambition to go on when we next take up that task.

The statement "Overworked" is one on which all too many seek to tie their excuse for illness and nervous breakdown. All too often the diagnosis should be just plain worry and a lack of inward harmony and an adjustment to things as they are. Too many office workers take their tasks with them after they leave their work day—eat with them, walk the streets with them, and take them home.

There is need of change on the part of us all. New contacts, new adventures, new scenes, and constantly something new to stimulate the mind into channels away from one's main work in life. A healthy sense of freedom takes hold on one the minute that phase of work has been cleaned up. Or, at least, completed for the time being.

Thought has no weight, but to look into the faces of some human beings you would think that they carried a ton or so of thought-weight around with them! There is nothing more natural than the process of thought. It carries its own weight.

If we can clean up as we go, we shall go far. Then, with the arrival of the unexpected, we shall be in trim and eager for new adventures.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Source Book."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times
ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

National Institute.—A convention of the members and friends of the National Institute, was held during the past week in the city of Washington, and brought together a large number of distinguished and scientific men from all sections of the country. The exercises were continued during the week and were of deep interest.

Among those present was Professor Jacobs, of Pennsylvania college, who read an interesting paper upon the "Indian Summer," etc.

Married.—On the 2d inst., by the Rev. Aquila Reese, Rev. Thomas M. Reese, of this place, to Miss Elizabeth A. Parrish, of Baltimore.

On Wednesday, in Westminster, Md., by the Rev. Robert Galladett, A. E. McKinstry, Esq. (Editor of the Mercersburg Visitor), to Miss Jane E. Garvin, of this place.

At Westminster, on the 28th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Willard, Richard M. Price, formerly of this place, to Miss Mary Ann Leister, of Westminster, Md.

Pay of Members.—By the law of last session, the pay of members of the Legislature is reduced to $150 per day, after they have been together 100 days. The hundred days of this session expired on Thursday. This will probably be an inducement to our law-makers to shorten the session.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Gettysburg Post Office.—On Monday, the President sent into the Senate the nomination of Jacob Kitzmiller for Postmaster at Gettysburg. Mr. K. is well known, having filled the office of Prothonotary for three years with marked acceptance. He lost an arm in the War for the suppression of the Rebellion, is a thorough republican and is amply qualified for the position.

Merchant Tailoring.—Joseph Jacobs has commenced the Merchant Tailoring business on Chambersburg street, in the room formerly occupied by R. C. Cobean. Goods of all styles on hand and made to order. Give him a call.

Married.—Currens—Fitzgerald.—On the 3d day of August last, by Rev. Mr. Breidenbaugh, Stephen Currens to Miss Sarah Fitzgerald, both of this county.

Stahle—Spahr.—On the 23d ult., by the Rev. W. R. H. Deatrick, John H. Stahle to Miss Sarah J. eldest daughter of C. M. Spahr, all of Franklin township.

Springs Hotel.—The new hotel at the Katalysine Spring is going up very rapidly and will soon be under roof. It will be a very large and imposing building.

Besides the hotel proper, other improvements in the grounds are going on under Dr. Smith's direction. Besides the building of a large cistern, privies, &c., ornamental trees are being planted, fences removed, walks and drives laid out—it being the intention to throw the grounds from the spring to the Mill road, 105 acres, into one enclosure or park, including the two groves east and west of the spring.

New Street.—The Town Council recently ordained the opening of a new street to be called "Union," running from North Stratton to North Washington street, striking the latter at a point immediately opposite the college. On Wednesday the viewers reported the following damages on the line of the new street:—John M. McClellan $175, George W. McClellan $350, Israel Yount $20, George Strenmel $425, and John Weygant $350.

Millinery.—Mrs. Irwin and Miss McCosh will continue the Millinery business on York street.

Increase.—The Gettysburg Water Company have determined to increase their capital stock.

I.O.O.F.—The elected and appointed officers of Gettys Lodge No. 124, I.O.O.F. were installed on the evening of the 6th inst., by District Deputy H. C. Peters, viz: N. G. Wm. F. Atkinson; V. G. David H. Yount; R. S. James McGreary; A. S. H. S. Benner; P. S. Wm. C. Stallsmith; T. John Rupp; C. Robert D. Armore; S. W. David Troxell; J. W. Jacob Remmel; R. and L. S. S. P. W. McCartney and Wm. D. Holtzworth; R. and L. S. N. G. David Kitzmiller and W. R. H. Deatrick; R. L. S. to V. G. Isaac Johns and Hugh D. Scott.

Fruit Buds.—We are glad to learn from several gentlemen largely engaged in fruit-growing in this county, that the Peach, Apple and other fruit buds, have not been materially injured during the winter. The protracted cold this spring has been favorable, preventing a too rapid development of buds, which thus far are generally safe. The prospect is for a good fruit crop this season.

HULL PLEADS FOR UNITY ON FOREIGN POLICY

Washington, April 10 (AP)—A broadcast explanation of American foreign policy coupled with a plea for home front unity on international issues launched Secretary of State Hull today on a planned campaign to keep the principles of the nation's foreign policy out of election year controversies.

"We are moving closer and closer to the hour of decision" in which the United Nations will determine whether the world will be ravaged by war again in 25 years, Hull said, and disunity in this country can render it ineffective in carrying out its responsibility.

The key to Hull's plans for keeping foreign policy decisions out of politics apparently lies in his announced intention to work with a bipartisan committee of congress in shaping those plans in the first place. He announced last night in his unprecedentedly detailed summation of foreign policy developments that he had requested Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee to designate the bipartisan group to work with him on planning postwar world organization, and said similar arrangements would be made with the house.

Beyond this Hull may be expected to try to keep projected foreign policy operations within the limits which he feels reasonably sure the leaders of both major political parties and the people generally will support. He told his radio audience last night that a plan of organization is "worse than useless" unless it has full support both in this country and in the other nations which must subscribe to it if it is to be made effective.

Hull discussed a dozen aspects of present foreign policy operations in obvious response to those critics who have claimed either that the state department's ways were obscure and secretive or that the department and the administration lacked any basic principles. The issues he discussed fell into two classes: immediate problems leading to victory and future problems of the armistice and postwar organizations.

WATCH ILLINOIS VOTE TUESDAY

Chicago, April 10 (AP)—National interest in the Illinois primary election tomorrow will center chiefly on its test of "draft MacArthur" sentiment in the Midwest.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur won three of 24 delegates elected in Wisconsin's primary last Tuesday and his vote-pulling power in the Illinois Republican Presidential preference race will show whether the draft movement is gathering momentum.

MacArthur's name was entered without his authorization by the MacArthur for President clubs which have Midwest headquarters in Chicago. He is pitted against Riley Bender, Chicago real estate man and political neophyte.

Results of the preference vote are not binding on the 50 delegates the Republicans will elect and the nine others to be chosen at a party convention April 28. Six of the 60 men and women entered in the district contests have expressed in advance a preference for Thomas E. Dewey, three for Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, two for MacArthur and one each for Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune which is backing MacArthur, and Henry J. Kaiser. The other 66 are undeclared or avowedly open minded.

General MacArthur's supporters are hopeful that a large vote for him will start a MacArthur boom rolling across the country.

$70,000 BLAZE

Kingston, Pa., April 10 (AP)—Huge vats of varnish and shellac, manufactured for war agencies, were destroyed yesterday when a general alarm fire swept the two-story factory of the Raker Paint company. Two firemen were injured and damage was estimated by firemen at $70,000. State police are investigating the cause of the blaze.

The air-cooled radial engine, which contributed much to the development of aviation, actually was invented before the first airplane—in 1902 by Charles W. Manly.

Relief Chiseling Is Major Problem

Harrisburg, April 10 (AP)—Relief chiseling, despite all-time low marks in unemployment and assistance cases, continues to be a major problem in Pennsylvania.

Assistance Secretary Samuel Y. Ramage declared today that no special drive is under way to ferret out the chiselers but gave assurance that the relief department has been and will continue to "carefully investigate and prosecute" all attempts to gain state aid by fraudulent means.

In 1941, there were 473,000 cases receiving assistance of which 1,767 were later prosecuted for sums totaling $325,000; in 1942, there were only 316,000 cases on the rolls, 1,141 were prosecuted, involving $135,000, and last year there were 220,000 cases, 819 prosecutions, involving $131,500.

Leaders Agree On Mailing Of Ballots

Harrisburg, April 10 (AP)—Ranking legislative leaders of both parties today endorsed automatic mailing of ballots as part of Pennsylvania's proposed liberalized soldier vote law.

Governor Martin has set May 1 for a special session of the legislature to make it possible for every Pennsylvanian in the armed forces—and Allied services—to cast a ballot this November.

His special committee, comprising three state officials and four general assembly leaders, meets tomorrow to draw up the bills for the session and to rule on the constitutionality of the automatic mailing proposal.

DEATHS FROM RABIES MOUNT

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Rabies, killing man and "beast" across the nation, has climbed so that final figures on 1943 may show the worst toll in five years.

Preliminary government estimates from the states—Texas and Louisiana have not yet reported—tell this story: At least 33 humans and 7,348 animals died of rabies in 1943. Most of the animals were dogs. The others were cattle, cats, sheep, swine, horses, goats, wolves, foxes.

There are no figures on the number of persons—perhaps thousands—saved from death through the Pasteur treatment after bites by rabid animals last year.

Dr. Harry W. Schoening, chief of the pathological division in the agriculture department's bureau of animal industry, comments:

"I'm sorry to say there is about as much rabies today as there was

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

National Institute.—A convention of the members and friends of the National Institute, was held during the past week in the city of Washington, and brought together a large number of distinguished and scientific men from all sections of the country. The exercises were continued during the week and were of deep interest.

Amongst those present was Professor Jacobs, of Pennsylvania college, who read an interesting paper upon the "Indian Summer," &c.

Married.—On the 2d inst., by the Rev. Aquila Reese, Rev. Thomas M. Reese, of this place, to Miss Elizabeth A. Parrish, of Baltimore.

On Wednesday, in Westminster, Md., by the Rev. Robert Galladet, A. E. McKinstry, Esq. (Editor of the Mercersburg Visitor), to Miss Jane E. Garvin, of this place.

At Westminster, on the 28th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Willard, Richard M. Reese, formerly of this place, to Miss Mary Ann Leister, of Westminster, Md.

Pay of Members.—By the law of last session, the pay of members of the Legislature is reduced to $150 per day, after they have been together 100 days. The hundred days of this session expired on Thursday. This will probably be an inducement to our law-makers to shorten the session.

Died.—On Tuesday morning, Martin Newman, Esq., of Liberty township, in the 33d year of his age. He has left a wife and five children, to whom the bereavement is most painfully afflictive. Mr. N. was one of the county auditors.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.—Gettysburg Post Office.—On Monday, the President sent into the Senate the nomination of Jacob Kitzmiller for Postmaster at Gettysburg. Mr. K. is well known, having filled the office of Prothonotary for three years with marked acceptance. He lost an arm in the War for the suppression of the Rebellion, is a thorough republican and is amply qualified for the position.

Merchant Tailoring.—Joseph Jacobs has commenced the Merchant Tailoring business on Chambersburg street, in the room formerly occupied by R. C. Cobean. Goods of all styles on hand and made to order. Give him a call.

Married.—Currens—Fitzgerald.—On the 3d day of August last, by Rev. Mr. Breidenbach, Stephen Currens to Miss Sarah Fitzgerald, both of this county.

Stahle—Spahr.—On the 23d ult., by the Rev. W. R. H. Deatrich, John H. Stahle to Miss Sarah J., eldest daughter of C. M. Spahr, all of Franklin township.

Springs Hotel.—The new hotel at the Katalysine Spring is going up very rapidly and will soon be under roof. It will be a very large and imposing building.

Besides the hotel proper, other improvements in the grounds are going on under Dr. Smith's direction. Besides the building of a large cistern, privies, &c., ornamental trees are being planted, fences removed, walks and drives laid out—it being the intention to throw the grounds from the spring to the Mill road, 105 acres, into one enclosure or park, including the two groves east and west of the spring.

New Street.—The Town Council recently ordained the opening of a new street to be called "Union," running from North Stratton to North Washington street, striking the latter at a point immediately opposite the college. . . . On Wednesday the viewers reported the following damages on the line of the new street—John M. McClellan $175, George W. McClellan $350, Israel Yount $20, George Stremmel $425, and John Weygandt $350.

Millinery.—Mrs. Irwin and Miss McCosh will continue the Millinery business on York street.

Increase.—The Gettysburg Water Company have determined to increase their capital stock.

I.O.O.F.—The elected and appointed officers of Gettysburg Lodge No. 124, I.O.O.F., were installed on the evening of the 6th inst., by District Deputy H. C. Peters, viz: N. G. Wm. P. Atkinson; V. G. David H. Yount; R. S. James McCreary; A. S. H. S. Benner; F. S. Wm. C. Stallsmith; T. John Rupp; C. Robert D. Arnor; S. W. David Troxell; J. W. Jacob Remmel; R. and L. S. P. W. McCartney and Wm. D. Holzworth; R. and L. S. to N. G. David Kitzmiller and W. R. H. Deatrich; R. L. S. to V. G. Isaac Johns and Hugh D. Scott.

Fruit Buds.—We are glad to learn from several gentlemen largely engaged in fruit-growing in this county, that the Peach, Apple and other fruit buds, have not been materially injured during the winter. The protracted cold this spring has been favorable, preventing a too rapid development of buds, which thus far are generally safe. The prospect is for a good fruit crop this season.

HULL PLEADS FOR UNITY ON FOREIGN POLICY

Washington, April 10 (AP)—A broad-based explanation of American foreign policy coupled with a plea for home front unity on international issues launched Secretary of State Hull today on a planned campaign to keep the principles of the nation's foreign policy out of election year controversies.

"We are moving closer and closer to the hour of decision" in which the United Nations will determine whether the world will be ravaged by war again in 25 years, Hull said, and disunity in this country can render it ineffective in carrying out its responsibility.

The key to Hull's plans for keeping foreign policy decisions out of politics apparently lies in his announced intention to work with a bipartisan committee of congress in shaping those plans in the first place. He announced last night in his unprecedentedly detailed summation of foreign policy developments that he had requested Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee to designate the bipartisan group to work with him on planning postwar world organization, and said similar arrangements would be made with the house.

Answers Critics
Beyond this Hull may be expected to try to keep projected foreign policy operations within the limits which he feels reasonably sure the leaders of both major political parties and the people generally will support. He told his radio audience last night that a plan of organization is "worse than useless" unless it has full support both in this country and in the other nations which must subscribe to it if it is to be made effective.

Hull discussed a dozen aspects of present foreign policy operations in obvious response to those critics who have claimed either that the state department's ways were obscure and secretive or that the department and the administration lacked any basic principles.

The issues he discussed fell into two classes: immediate problems leading to victory and future problems of the armistice and postwar organizations.

DUMB BUNNY?
Kenilworth, Ill. (AP)—James Cleary, Jr., 14, and his brother, Michael, 7, discovered what they thought an apparent amphibious accident of the Easter bunny along Lake Michigan's shore.

Easter Sunday morning they found hundreds of eggs bobbing in the lake and scattered over more than a block of the lake front. By using long poles, they fished more than 50 of them ashore.

EMU LAYS AN EGG
Buffalo (AP)—Mayor Joseph J. Kelly demands big game when he goes Easter egg hunting. He prowled the bird house at the zoo for an hour yesterday, having been told the Australian emu was about to hatch an egg—but the emu didn't oblige. "At least, if it did, I didn't see it," he said regretfully.

SCRAP APPEAL

WATCH ILLINOIS VOTE TUESDAY

Chicago, April 10 (AP)—National interest in the Illinois primary election tomorrow will center chiefly on its test of "draft MacArthur" sentiment in the Midwest.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur won three of 24 delegates elected in Wisconsin's primary last Tuesday and his vote-pulling power in the Illinois Republican Presidential preference race will show whether the draft movement is gathering momentum.

MacArthur's name was entered without his authorization by the MacArthur for President clubs which have Midwest headquarters in Chicago. He is pitted against Riley Bender, Chicago real estate man and political neophyte.

Results of the preference vote are not binding on the 50 delegates the Republicans will elect and the nine others to be chosen at a party convention April 28. Six of the 80 men and women entered in the district contests have expressed in advance a preference for Thomas E. Dewey, three for Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, two for MacArthur and one each for Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune which is backing MacArthur, and Henry J. Kaiser. The other 66 are undeclared or avowedly open minded.

General MacArthur's supporters are hopeful that a large vote for him will start a MacArthur boom rolling across the country.

$70,000 BLAZE

Kingston, Pa., April 10 (AP)—Huge vats of varnish and shellac, manufactured for war agencies, were destroyed yesterday when a general alarm fire swept the two-story factory of the Raker Paint company. Two firemen were injured and damage was estimated by firemen at $70,000. State police are investigating the cause of the blaze.

The air-cooled radial engine, which contributed much to the development of aviation, actually was invented before the first airplane—in 1902 by Charles W. Manly.

An Evening Thought

Every one is least known to himself, and it is very difficult for a man to know himself. — Cicero.

Just Folks

THE JOYOUS LIFE

Men make of life a mystery, as if must magic rule.

But men and women live it through, with home and church and school.

And men and women, rich or poor, or humble folk or great,

Must find their happiness themselves, and work for it and wait.

For none to endless peace is born or given a guarantee

That life, for him, from birth to death, will always happy be.

"My yoke is heavy!" so He said who viewed the world aright;

For pride lies in the heavy task and never in the light.

And joy is in the peaceful home and knowledge in the school.

There's beauty in the hills and fields and every rippling pool.

And faith is in the churches small, as in cathedrals vast.

For out of these contentment comes from first unto the last.

Since man to reason first began, for all he has enjoyed

Of ease and comfort and delight his strength has been employed.

He had to earn the better way with weariness and pain.

Be beaten back and suffer loss, but wake to try again.

And this, since then until today, has seemed to be the rule—

The joyous life must be a blend of home and church and school.

Today's Talk

ON CLEANING UP

It is a discouraging thought to carry around with one, that of something left behind. William James has expressed it well in these words: "Nothing is so fatiguing as the eternal hanging on of an uncompleted task."

Of course we cannot do many important tasks at one sitting, not in one day, or month, or perhaps in a year. A thing worth doing often takes time, but to hang onto a task that looks hopeless, or to one that should be abandoned is the most foolish of procedures.

Cleaning up our work each day, as far as we can, without worry, is the natural way of life and should rule us in all that we do. Leaving fresh ends to the task that we do gives us zest and ambition to go on when we next take up that task.

The statement "Overworked" is one on which all too many seek to tie their excuse for illness and nervous breakdown. All too often the diagnosis should be just plain worry and a lack of inward harmony and an adjustment to things as they are. Too many office workers take their tasks with them after they leave their work day—eat with them, walk the streets with them, and take them home.

There is need of change on the part of us all. New contacts, new adventures, new scenes, and constantly something new to stimulate the mind into channels away from one's main work in life. A healthy sense of freedom takes hold on one the minute that phase of work has been cleaned up. Or, at least, completed for the time being.

Thought has no weight, but to look into the faces of some human beings you would think that they carried a ton or so of thought-weight around with them! There is nothing more natural than the process of thought. It carries its own weight.

If we can clean up as we go, we shall go far. Then, with the arrival of the unexpected, we shall be in trim and eager for new adventures.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject for a few seconds. When I opened them I could see green vegetation. Then I heard a snapping sound, like flames, and realized I had to get out quick."

Saves Candy Bars

Raley said it took considerable effort to free himself from several hundred rounds of ammunition which were resting on his neck. Then he poked around for three candy bars and also found his shoes, for he figured he might have to do a lot of walking.

"It was not until I had done all this that I opened the bulkhead to climb out. I got the shock of my life. The tail section was the only part of the plane there. A part of the vertical fin was left and the right stabilizer was broken in half. The only part of the plane left besides that was behind the tail wheel—all told, about 12 feet.

"I checked my watch. The whole business from the time of the crash in the air to when I got out took 30 minutes. I figured it was possible the plane came down in one piece and the tail broke off when it hit the big trees and went skidding along through the smaller ones.

Lucky Break

"The impact with the branches had bent the guns like they were made of tin and had caved in the bottom in several places. I don't imagine I'll ever be able to figure out just how I managed to come out alive, but believe it was because I was pinned down flat against the floor where I couldn't be tossed around when it hit.

"The plane hit on the bottom. If it had hit on the top I would probably have been killed. That's the only way I can figure it out."

Lutheran Church

Historian Expires

Shamokin, Pa., April 10 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. John W. Richards, retired, an authority on Lutheran history and a lineal descendant of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg who founded the Lutheran church in America, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph H. Davison, wife of the Shamokin superintendent of schools. He was 77.

Dr. Richards retired three years ago after serving 28 years as pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church, Philadelphia. Previously he had held pastorates in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and Lima, Ohio.

A frequent contributor to the Lutheran and other church publications, he was granted a doctorate five years ago by Muhlenberg college in recognition of his writings on Lutheran history. He was an alumnus of Muhlenberg and of the Lutheran Theological seminary, Mt. Airy, Pennsylvania. (His father, Matthias Henry Richards, graduated from the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary in 1864.)

Besides his daughter he is survived by a son, Matthias H. Richards, principal of the South Philadelphia high school for boys.

To Test Stassen In Nebraska Vote

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Backers of Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen will risk some of their candidate's Wisconsin-acquired prestige tomorrow in a Nebraska primary that Senator Butler (R-Nebr.) predicted would find the former Minnesota governor the winner of a popularity contest but without the support of most of the state's 15 republican delegates.

Stassen, who demonstrated that he must be considered in the GOP presidential picture by annexing four of 24 Wisconsin votes, will be the only active candidate in Nebraska's preferential primary. The name of Wendell L. Willkie remains on the ballot despite his withdrawal from the contest.

Butler pointing out that this preferential primary is not binding on the state's delegates to the national convention, predicted that a favorite son slate supporting Gov. Dwight Griswold would come in ahead of a group who have indicated they favor Stassen.

Nebraska democrats will select 12 delegates to their convention with most of them expected to favor a fourth term.

Honorable Mention For Traffic Record

Harrisburg, April 10 (AP)—Governor today was advised that Pennsylvania has been awarded honorable mention in the 1943 national traffic safety contest.

Ned H. Dearborn, executive vice president of the National Safety Council, announced the award and wrote Martin:

"Your conservation of manpower and materials through traffic safety is a direct and vital contribution to our war effort."

There were 1,295 traffic fatalities in Pennsylvania last year compared with 1,742 in 1942, a reduction of 25.75 per cent.

Clamer Medal April 19 for "decidedly outstanding achievements in metallurgy, and particularly for contributions in blast furnace practice," the institute announced today.

New Technique For Skull Fractures

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Army neurosurgeons at Walter Reed hospital have taken a tip from the glazier and developed a new technique for fixing skull fractures caused by battle wounds or violent accidents.

They are replacing extensive areas of shattered skull bone with tantalum metal plates that are "inlaid" on chiseled-out edges of uninjured bone and fastened with tiny triangular metal wedges—just as a new pane of glass is inserted in a window frame.

The technique was demonstrated to military surgeons generally for the first time recently during a three-hour operation performed on a soldier whose skull was shattered in combat on New Georgia Island last summer. The operation was witnessed by neurosurgeons from 20 Army hospitals attending a conference at Walter Reed.

Yorkshire Miners Return To Work

London, April 10 (AP)—Thousands of South Yorkshire miners returned to work today, virtually ending a week-long strike by nearly 100,000 men that cost an estimated 1,000,000 tons of coal.

A total of 75,000 men had returned this morning, with 20,000 more due back in the pits Wednesday.

In Belfast, 35,000 shipyard and aircraft workers will return to work Tuesday and Wednesday. Some have been on strike six weeks.

ESCAPE from PARIS

by Marion McClure Stewart

Chapter 19

While Fritz entered the apartment house to enlist the services of the concierge in helping Schafer to his apartment, Adrienne for the first time caught sight of a bulky man standing on the sidewalk watching the car. Though she could not see his features he seemed vaguely familiar to her in outline. A sudden fear seized her like a cold hand clutching her heart.

This was one of the men who had formerly watched the Cafe Dragon Rouge. Strange that he should be observing the arrival of Schafer's car. It was unfortunate, as he had undoubtedly been a witness to Schafer's condition which might arouse his suspicions. She wondered the Cafe du Barry and had seen her enter the car.

Her train of thought was interrupted by the appearance of Fritz. He inquired in French with a marked accent to know where Mademoiselle would like to be driven. Adrienne gave the address of Madame Dupont's apartment on the Rue de Vaugirard, and Fritz took his seat at the wheel. Looking about her for the man who had been watching the car, she saw he had disappeared.

Fraulein Augusta Lange fatigued by a difficult day at her office, had retired early in her little apartment on the Rue St. Honore, when she was aroused by the phone ringing at her bedside. Sitting up hastily she reached for the receiver and was greeted by a voice speaking in German. "This is Adolf Guggenheimer speaking. Fraulein. I have some information for you regarding the young woman whose movements you desired me to watch. May I see you at once, Fraulein?"

"If you are in this vicinity, Adolf come here in five minutes."

Fraulein Lange had learned the art of performing daily tasks with a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of effort. So that by the time the door bell rang. She was fully dressed and immediately ushered Guggenheimer into the small living room.

"Now, Adolf," she said crisply. "Let me have your news."

She motioned to the man to sit down. The red-faced Nazi, who had a wholesome respect for the capability of Fraulein Lange, held his hat in his hands and met her searching gaze with his small shifty eyes. Hastily he narrated the happenings of the evening, of his having seen Herr Schafer carried to his car in an intoxicated condition from the Cafe du Barry on the Boulevard des Italiens by the patron of the Cafe and his own chauffeur.

Of Adrienne entering the car and of his following them to Schafer's apartment on the Champs Elysees. Fraulein Lange's brows were knit in perplexity as the story progressed. Now and then she inserted a question. "You say Mlle. Girard waited in the car while the concierge and Fritz took Herr Schafer into his apartment?"

"Yes Fraulein. Then Fritz came back and drove the French girl to an apartment on the Rue du Vaugirard."

"You followed them?"

Guggenheimer nodded, "Yes Fraulein."

"You have done well, Adolf. You can go now. In the morning you will receive further instructions."

When the man had gone, Augusta Lange found his story had given her sufficient food for thought. Some aspects of it puzzled her. It seemed strange that Herr Schafer, who though fond of his beer or wine, was not given to drinking to excess. Why should he have become so thoroughly intoxicated as to be unable to walk?

She knew he regarded his work as too important to permit such lapses. To her the affair had a strange aspect, and she determined to investigate it. Her brain too active to relax, it was long before she slept.

Herr Schafer awakening from his condition of drugged torpor, was perplexed to find himself in bed in his apartment and roused to a sitting posture to glance at the clock on his bedside table. The hands pointed at eight o'clock. With a feeling of bewilderment he pressed the button on the wall near the bed. His valet, Otto, a solemn faced blond young German entered. Did Herr Schafer want his bath water now? Would he order what he wanted for breakfast?

"Never mind that for the present," roared the irate agent. "Send Fritz here immediately."

The man withdrew. After a short interval Fritz appeared.

"What happened last night at the cafe, Fritz?" demanded his master. "How did I get here? The last thing I remember was sitting opposite Mlle. Girard drinking champagne."

Fritz's immobile face did not change. "That I am unable to tell you Herr Schafer. All I can say is that I was summoned by the proprietor of the Cafe du Barry to assist him in carrying you out to the car."

"It sounds incredible," murmured Schafer. "I must have muddled my drinks badly. It is the first time such a thing has happened. Did Mademoiselle Girard accompany me in the car?"

"Yes sir. I drove the Fraulein home afterwards."

"That is all I wanted to know. Hand me my jacket. Then you may go."

When the man had closed the door behind him Schafer thrust his hand in the breast pocket of his jacket and relief overspread his face as he drew out the leather folder. He opened it and examined the list. It fortunately had not been tampered with. However, on a second examination, he was not so certain. It seemed there clung to it the faintest suggestion of a delicate perfume.

On closer scrutiny he noticed one of the sheets of folded paper was slightly bent at the corner as if hastily replaced in the case. Was it possible that this clever French girl had double crossed him? Even though the thought entered his mind, he could not entirely suppress an unwilling admiration for her audacity and resourcefulness. How useful would such a woman be to him if her services could be relied on. But this he knew was impossible. The matter should be sifted to the bottom.

The bell of the bedside phone interrupted his thoughts. On answering he recognized Fraulein Lange's voice.

"If it is convenient, I should like to see you, Herr Schafer. I have some news that may prove of interest to you."

"Ach," ejaculated the agent with hour's time then Fraulein."

He replaced the receiver and pressing the bell summoned Otto again to attend to his bath and breakfast.

for a few seconds. When I opened them I could see green vegetation. Then I heard a snapping sound, like flames, and realized I had to get out quick."

Saves Candy Bars

Raley said it took considerable effort to free himself from several hundred rounds of ammunition which were resting on his neck. Then he poked around for three candy bars and also found his shoes, for he figured he might have to do a lot of walking.

"It was not until I had done all this that I opened the bulkhead to climb out. I got the shock of my life. The tail section was the only part of the plane there. A part of the vertical fin was left and the right stabilizer was broken in half. The only part of the plane left besides that was behind the tail wheel — all told, about 12 feet.

"I checked my watch. The whole business from the time of the crash in the air to when I got out took 30 minutes. I figured it was possible the plane came down in one piece and the tail broke off when it hit the big trees and went skidding along through the smaller ones.

Lucky Break

"The impact with the branches had bent the guns like they were made of tin and had caved in the bottom in several places. I don't imagine I'll ever be able to figure out just how I managed to come out alive, but believe it was because I was pinned down flat against the floor where I couldn't be tossed around when it hit.

"The plane hit on the bottom. If it had hit on the top I would probably have been killed. That's the only way I can figure it out."

Lutheran Church Historian Expires

Shamokin, Pa., April 10 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. John W. Richards, retired, an authority on Lutheran history and a lineal descendant of Henry Melchior Muhlenberg who founded the Lutheran church in America, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph H. Davison, wife of the Shamokin superintendent of schools. He was 77.

Dr. Richards retired three years ago after serving 28 years as pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church, Philadelphia. Previously he had held pastorates in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and Lima, Ohio.

A frequent contributor to the Lutheran and other church publications, he was granted a doctorate five years ago by Muhlenberg college in recognition of his writings on Lutheran history. He was an alumnus of Muhlenberg and of the Lutheran Theological seminary, Mt. Airy, Pennsylvania. (His father, Matthias Henry Richards, graduated from the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary in 1864.)

Besides his daughter he is survived by a son, Matthias H. Richards, principal of the South Philadelphia high school for boys.

To Test Stassen In Nebraska Vote

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Backers of Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen will risk some of their candidate's Wisconsin-acquired prestige tomorrow in a Nebraska primary that Senator Butler (R-Neb.) predicted would find the former Minnesota governor the winner of a popularity contest but without the support of most of the state's 15 republican delegates.

Stassen, who demonstrated that he must be considered in the GOP presidential picture by annexing four of 24 Wisconsin votes, will be the only active candidate in Nebraska's preferential primary. The name of Wendell L. Wilkie remains on the ballot despite his withdrawal from the contest.

Butler, pointing out that this preferential primary is not binding on the state's delegates to the national convention, predicted that a favorite son slate supporting Gov. Dwight Griswold would come in ahead of a group who have indicated they favor Stassen.

Nebraska democrats will select 12 delegates to their convention with most of them expected to favor a fourth term.

Honorable Mention For Traffic Record

Harrisburg, April 10 (AP)—Governor today was advised that Pennsylvania has been awarded honorable mention in the 1943 national traffic safety contest.

Ned H. Dearborn, executive vice president of the National Safety council, announced the award and wrote Martin:

"Your conservation of manpower and materials through traffic safety is a direct and vital contribution to our war effort."

There were 1,295 traffic fatalities in Pennsylvania last year compared with 1,742 in 1942, a reduction of 25.75 per cent.

TO RECEIVE MEDAL Philadelphia, April 10 (AP)—Dr. Walter Emil Ludwig Mathesius, president of the Geneva Steel company at Geneva, Utah, and former vice president of the U. S. Steel corporation, will be awarded the Franklin Institute's Francis J. Clamer Medal April 19 for "decidedly outstanding achievements in metallurgy, and particularly for contributions in blast furnace practice," the institute announced today.

New Technique For Skull Fractures

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Army neurosurgeons at Walter Reed hospital have taken a tip from the glazier and developed a new technique for fixing skull fractures caused by battle wounds or violent accidents.

They are replacing extensive areas of shattered skull bone with titanium metal plates that are "inlaid" on chiseled-out edges of uninjured bone and fastened with tiny triangular metal wedges—just as a new pane of glass is inserted in a window frame.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, April 10 (AP)—The seasonal change in program make-up in preparation for spring and summer broadcasting has been production of more developments.

When Bob Hope goes off for his regular 13-week vacation June 6, his Tuesday night series on NBC, will be turned over to Comedienne Charlotte Greenwood, who has done comparatively little broadcasting. She will be in a comedy script titled "Miss Charlotte."

The coming Sunday is to have ready a couple new ones. The opera auditions of the Blu, having ended another season, will be replaced by World of Song, in which previous audition winners will be guests.

Sport Broadcaster Ted Husing is to be M.C. in a new CBS Saturday afternoon program, "Visiting Hour," which has as its prime purpose the interviewing of soldiers at Army general hospitals in various parts of the country. The first date is April 29.

Eight Ring Titles At Stake In Boston

Boston, April 10 (AP)—A wide-open battle for eight undefended titles starts today as 82 talented amateur boxers, including many representatives of the armed forces, start the two-day National A.A.U. boxing championships at Boston Garden.

Not a single 1943 champion is returning to Boston this year to defend his crown against the 1944 field so that plenty of action is promised in the battle for eight titles

ACE ADAMS TO TAKE ROLE AS GIANT STARTER

By TED MEIRER

New York, April 10 (AP)—It looks like Ace Adams has seen the last of a bullpen.

The star of the 1943 Giant relief pitching staff, who appeared in a record number of 70 games last year, has been promised a starting role by Manager Mel Ott.

To this end the Giants purchased over the week-end veteran 40-year-old Lou Poll from their Jersey City International league farm. Poll is expected to replace Adams as the ace of the bullpen.

Adams, who won 11 and lost seven games last summer, worked 67 games in relief before Ott let him start. On Sept. 12, he started and went the route against the Boston Braves, winning, 7-2. Before the season ended he started two more games against Brooklyn and the Chicago Cubs.

Adams watched from the bench yesterday as the Giants plastered an 8 to 3 defeat on the Yankees at Atlantic City, N. J. Phil Weintraub, first sacker of the Giants, started with a single, double and triple.

Durocher Injured
Another noteworthy feature of the week-end happened at Brooklyn where Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers broke his right thumb in two places. He was trying to spear a wild throw bare-handed. Thus needed Branch Rickey's hopes that his manager would start the season at second base.

The accident happened in an exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox. The Dodgers won out in the 12th inning when Clancy Smyser walked, moved up on an infielder and scored on Luis Olmo's single.

Other major league news: Washington Senators—Great relief pitching by Dutch Leonard gave Senators 2-1 win over Phils.

Cleveland Indians—Manager Lou Boudreau is well satisfied with conditions of players although club has played only two games against major league opposition. Red Embree and Vern Kennedy listed to pitch against Pirates today.

Detroit Tigers—Club ready to break camp at Evansville, Ind. tomorrow.

Reds Staff Ready

Cincinnati Reds—Manager Bill McKechnie commented: "I've got as good a pitching staff as any in the National league. Bucky Walters looks as good as he ever did; Elmer Riddle is in great shape; Ray Starr will be worth a lot to us and there's no need to mention this fellow (Tomas) de la Cruz."

Chicago Cubs—Pitchers Paul Derringer, Bill Fleming and John Milos are on sick list.

St. Louis Cardinals—Pitcher Ted Wilks expected to report to club today. He was rejected for military service.

Chicago White Sox—Team will break camp Tuesday and plan to workout at Comiskey park in Chicago Wednesday.

New York Yankees—George Weiss, vice president, said there was nothing to reports that the Yankees are seeking Ray Hayworth, Johnny Cooney, Paul Waner or any other Brooklyn players.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Rip Sewell had his slow ball working okay against Detroit. He limited Tigers to three hits in pitching four scoreless innings.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 10 (AP)—That guy with the white coat and the loud voice won't be kidding this year when he hollers: "You can't tell the players without a score card."

In fact, the printer will have to work fast some days so that you can tell 'em with a score card—so, just to help baseball fans become better acquainted with the numerous newcomers, this department will introduce them briefly from day to day. Here goes:

A ROOKIE A DAY

Grey Clarke, White Sox third baseman—Led American Association batters with 346 at Milwaukee last year; good team player and a steady player on the hot corner. Called "Noisy" by the Brewers because he isn't. Chews a big cud of "eatin' tobacco" and his uniform usually looks like Pepper Martin's used to. The Sox' laundry bill is sure to go up.

Carl Lindquist, Braves pitcher—A 15-game winner for Hartford last season. Started campaign by blanking Springfield on opening day; topped it off September 4 by getting married the same day that he won game 15; the next day the fans chipped in $179.55 for a wedding present.

FREEDOM OF REACH

Basketball's anti-gal tending rule must have been a severe blow to long Jim McIntyre, who scored 86 points in three games to pace Patrick Henry of Minneapolis to the Minnesota high school title—At 16, Jim is six feet, 7½ inches tall and weighs 225 pounds—With that human tower in the lineup, we assume Patrick Henry must have changed that famous line to read: "Give him liberty or give the other team two points."

MONDAY MATINEE

Frank Leahy, who was here awaiting orders to go overseas for the USO, has turned up on the Notre Dame campus again—Challenge Me, who became an important Kentucky Derby candidate by winning the Oak Lawn Handicap and Arkansas Derby, likely will be Louisville's local pride this year. He was bred by Lieut. Warner Jones, Jr., of Goshen, Ky., who is stationed at Fort Knox—in the last 729 championship games between National Football League teams, only 25 have been won by the one point after a touchdown.

SERVICE DEPT.

Capt. William H. Harridge, Jr., son of the American League president, is commander of a tank company at Camp Barkeley, Texas. A football and boxing fan, Captain Harridge never had any connection with baseball, but he recently took Will, Sr., for a rough ride on a tank—which sounds like he might be practicing to take over Judge Landis' job—Lieut. Paul (Bear) Bryant, the "tother" end on Alabama's Howell-Hudson grid team of 1935, recently visited the Alabama campus after more than a year of duty with the Navy in North Africa. After seeing the material Coach Frank Thomas is assembling for next season, Bear headed right back to Africa—Tackle Alex Shibanoff, formerly of Franklin and Marshall and the Detroit Lions, has turned up in New Guinea commanding a PT boat—Wonder if he calls it "Sinkwich?"

Pittsburgh, April 10 (AP)—Juste Fontaine will be seeking his 18th straight triumph when he meets rugged Ruby Garcia of Puerto Rico in one of four eight-round bouts at the Gardens tonight. Three other eight-round bouts and a pair of fours have been listed for the card.

CARDINALS AND NATS SET PACE

New York, April 10 (AP)—Tabled by some as the teams with the best chances of winning the pennants, the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds of the National League, and the Washington Senators and Cleveland Indians of the American League, to date have dominated the red flannel or spring exhibition baseball circuit.

With the opening of the regular season only a week off, the National League champions and runner-ups are deadlocked for the lead, each having won three games without a reversal.

The Senators top the American League teams with four wins and one loss, with the Indians close behind, having won two of three.

Only one of the Cardinals' three victories was gained against major league opposition, that one against their city rivals, the Browns. Two of the Cincinnati victories were gained against the Indians and Chicago Cubs, while the Senators split a pair with the Philadelphia Phillies, their only big league competition.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics set a torrid early pace by winning their first six games, but made an about face and dropped their next four.

The National League holds an 11 to 8 edge over its junior loop rivals. The edge was manufactured primarily by the Cardinals, Reds and Giants.

Senators Losing Latin Recruits

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Pennant hopes of the Washington Senators, bright and rosy just 24 hours ago, took a downward tumble today as Uncle Sam's draft men took a cut at the contingent of Latin-Americans the club had assembled for the 1944 campaign.

Clark Griffith, baseball's heralded "old fox," thought he had pulled a fast one on the other major league outfits when he signed up some 18 players from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Mexico. Most of them showed promise in training and a couple were slated for regular jobs.

But the selective service system moved in on that blissful outlook with a ruling that the Latins must either return home or register for the draft in this country by June 12—and take their chances of going into the armed forces.

Should any of the Latins decide to return home—and some of them unquestionably will do just that—they won't be able to reenter the United States without special permission. Thirteen of the south and central American players are of draft age and apparently physically acceptable to the Army.

SCHOOLMAN DIES

Nanty-Glo, Pa., April 10 (AP)—School Superintendent Charles Homer Bowers, 57, died of a bullet wound in the head yesterday, when, Coroner Patrick McDermott reported, he shot himself with a high-powered rifle.

TO ADDRESS NURSES

Pittsburgh, April 10 (AP)—Right Rev. Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, of Catholic university, Washington, will be one of the principal speakers here May 19-20-21 when 500 educators and nurses convene at a meeting of the National Council of Catholic Nurses of the United States.

BISONS TAKE ICE TROPHY

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons, successful defenders of the American League championship, today prepared to slice a $9,500 playoff melon in the wake of their dramatic 6-4 triumph over Cleveland.

A crowd of 10,245, largest of the local season, witnessed the final game in the Calder Cup series last night in Memorial auditorium, and an estimated 2,500 were turned away.

Facing their first home defeat in 14 games as the third period got underway, the red-hot Bisons whipped five straight goals past Lloyd Storie, who replaced the injured Paul Gauthier in the Cleveland cage. Tom Burlington, Cleveland's one-eyed sharpshooter, had previously turned the hat trick with three successive scores after Morey Rinstad had opened with a Bison goal.

Buffalo is the only repeating Calder Cup winner since the American League was organized in 1930.

Cleveland also won $9,500-$5,500 for eliminating Hershey in the semifinal between divisional leaders, and $4,000 for place money in the final. Buffalo won $4,000 by downing Indianapolis, and $5,500 in the last series. Hershey split $4,000; Indianapolis $3,000.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, April 10 (AP)—The seasonal change in program make-up in preparation for spring and summer broadcasting has been production of more developments.

When Bob Hope goes off for his regular 13-week vacation June 6, his Tuesday night series on NBC, will be turned over to Comedienne Charlotte Greenwood, who has done comparatively little broadcasting. She will be in a comedy script titled "Miss Charlotte."

The coming Sunday is to have ready a couple new ones. The opera auditions of the Blu, having ended another season, will be replaced by World of Song, in which previous audition winners will be guests.

Sport Broadcaster Ted Husing is to be M.C. in a new CBS Saturday afternoon program, "Visiting Hour," which has as its prime purpose the interviewing of soldiers at Army general hospitals in various parts of the country. The first date is April 29.

Eight Ring Titles At Stake In Boston

Boston, April 10 (AP)—A wide-open battle for eight undefended titles starts today as 82 talented amateur boxers, including many representatives of the armed forces, start the two-day National A.A.U. boxing championships at Boston Garden.

Not a single 1943 champion is returning to Boston this year to defend his crown against the 1944 field so that plenty of action is promised in the battle for eight titles ranging from the 112-pound to the heavyweight class.

Nearest approach to a returning champion in the field is Dusky Tom Stenhouse, of Buffalo, defeated finalist in the 126-pound class last year, who will take another shot at that title in the present tourney.

The first lighthouse in America was a tall masonry tower built in 1716 by Massachusetts at the entrance to Boston harbor.

ACE ADAMS TO TAKE ROLE AS GIANT STARTER

By TED MEIRER

New York, April 10 (AP)—It looks like Ace Adams has seen the last of a bullpen.

The star of the 1943 Giant relief pitching staff, who appeared in a record number of 70 games last year, has been promised a starting role by Manager Mel Ott.

To this end the Giants purchased over the week-end veteran 40-year-old Lou Polli from their Jersey City International league farm. Polli is expected to replace Adams as the ace of the bullpen.

Adams, who won 11 and lost seven games last summer, worked 67 games in relief before Ott let him start. On Sept. 12, he started and went the route against the Boston Braves, winning, 7-2. Before the season ended he started two more games against Brooklyn and the Chicago Cubs.

Adams watched from the bench yesterday as the Giants plastered an 8 to 3 defeat on the Yankees at Atlantic City, N. J. Phil Weintraub, first sacker of the Giants, started with a single, double and triple.

Another noteworthy feature of the week-end happened at Brooklyn where Manager Leo Duchoer of the Dodgers broke his right thumb in two places. He was trying to spear a wild throw bare-handed. Thus needed Branch Rickey's hopes that his manager would start the season at second base.

The accident happened in an exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox. The Dodgers won out in the 12th inning when Clancy Smyser walked, moved up on an infield out and scored on Luis Olmo's single.

Other major league news: Washington Senators—Great relief pitching by Dutch Leonard gave Senators 2-1 win over Phils.

Cleveland Indians—Manager Lou Boudreau is well satisfied with conditions of players although club has played only two games against major league opposition. Red Embree and Vern Kennedy listed to pitch against Pirates today.

Detroit Tigers—Club ready to break camp at Evansville, Ind. tomorrow.

Reds' Staff Ready
Cincinnati Reds—Manager Bill McKechnie commented: "I've got as good a pitching staff as any in the National League. Bucky Walters looks as good as he ever did; Elmer Riddle is in great shape; Ray Starr will be worth a lot to us and there's no need to mention this fellow (Tomas) de la Cruz."

Chicago Cubs—Pitchers Paul Derringer, Bill Fleming and John Milos are on sick list.

St. Louis Cardinals—Pitcher Ted Wilks expected to report to club today. He was rejected for military service.

Chicago White Sox—Team will break camp Tuesday and plan to workout at Comiskey park in Chicago Wednesday.

New York Yankees—George Weiss, vice president, said there was nothing to reports that the Yankees are seeking Ray Hayworth, Johnny Cooney, Paul Waner or any other Brooklyn players.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Rip Sewell against his slow ball working okay against Detroit. He limited Tigers to three hits in pitching four scoreless innings.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 10 (AP)—That guy with the white coat and the loud voice won't be kidding this year when he hollers: "You can't tell the players without a score card." In fact, the printer will have to work fast some days so that you can tell 'em with a score card—so, just to help baseball fans become better acquainted with the numerous newcomers, this department will introduce them briefly from day to day. Here goes:

A ROOKIE A DAY

Grey Clarke, White Sox third baseman—Led American Association batters with 346 at Milwaukee last year; good team player and a steady player on the hot corner. Called "Noisy" by the Brewers because he isn't. Chews a big cud of "eat-in" tobacco and his uniform usually looks like Pepper Martin's used. The Sox' laundry bill is sure to go up.

Carl Lindquist, Braves pitcher—A 15-game winner for Hartford last season. Started campaign by blanking Springfield on opening day; topped it off September 4 by getting married the same day that he won game 15; the next day the fans chipped in $175.55 for a wedding present.

FREEDOM OF REACH

Basketball's anti-goal tending rule must have been a severe blow to long Jim McIntyre, who scored 86 points in three games to pace Patrick Henry of Minneapolis to the Minnesota high school title. At 16, Jim is six feet, 7½ inches tall and weighs 225 pounds—With that human tower in the lineup, we assume Patrick Henry must have changed that famous line to read: "Give him liberty or give the other team two points."

MONDAY MATINEE

Frank Leahy, who was here awaiting orders to go overseas for the USO, has turned up on the Notre Dame campus again—Challenge Me, who became an important Kentucky Derby candidate by winning the Oak Lawn Handicap and Arkansas Derby, likely will be Louisville's local pride this year. He was bred by Lieut. Warner Jones, Jr., of Goshen, Ky., who is stationed at Fort Knox—In the last 729 championship games between National Football League teams only 25 have been won by the one point after a touchdown.

SERVICE DEPT.

Capt. William H. Harridge, Jr., son of the American League president, is commander of a tank company at Camp Berkeley, Texas. A football and boxing fan, Captain Harridge never had any connection with baseball, but he recently took Will, Sr., for a rough ride in a tank—what sounds like he might be practicing to take over Judge Landis' job—Lieut. Paul (Bear) Bryant, the "other" end on Alabama's Howell-Hutson grid team of 1935, recently visited the Alabama campus after more than a year of duty with the Navy in North Africa. After seeing the material Coach Frank Thomas is assembling for next season, Bear headed right back to Africa—Tackle Alex Shibamoto, formerly of Franklin and Marshall and the Detroit Lions, has turned up in New Guinea commanding a PT boat—Wonder if he calls it "Sinkwhit?"

Pittsburgh, April 10 (AP)—Juste Fontaine will be seeking his 18th straight triumph when he meets rugged Ruby Garcia of Puerto Rico in one of four eight-round bouts at the Gardens tonight. Three other eight-round bouts and a pair of fours have been listed for the card.

CARDINALS AND NATS SET PACE

New York, April 10 (AP)—Tabbed by some as the teams with the best chances of winning the pennants, the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds of the National League, and the Washington Senators and Cleveland Indians of the American League, to date have dominated the red flannel or spring exhibition baseball circuit.

With the opening of the regular season only a week off, the National League champions and runner-ups are deadlocked for the lead, each having won three games without a reversal.

The Senators top the American League teams with four wins and one loss, with the Indians close behind, having won two of three.

Only one of the Cardinals' three victories was gained against major league opposition, that one against their city rivals, the Browns. Two of the Cincinnati victories were gained against the Indians and Chicago Cubs, while the Senators split a pair with the Philadelphia Phillies, their only big league competition.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics set a torrid early pace by winning their first six games, but made an about face and dropped their next four.

The National League holds an 11 to 8 edge over its junior loop rivals. The edge was manufactured primarily by the Cardinals, Reds and Giants.

Senators Losing Latin Recruits

Washington, April 10 (AP)—Pennant hopes of the Washington Senators, bright and rosy just 24 hours ago, took a downward tumble today as Uncle Sam's draft men took a cut at the contingent of Latin-Americans the club had assembled for the 1944 campaign.

Clark Griffith, baseball's heralded "old fox," thought he had pulled a fast one on the other major league outfits when he signed up some 18 players from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Mexico. Most of them showed promise in training and a couple were slated for regular jobs.

But the selective service system moved in on that blissful outlook with a ruling that the Latins must either return home or register for the draft in this country by June 12—and take their chances of going into the armed forces.

Should any of the Latins decide to return home—and some of them unquestionably will do just that—they won't be able to reenter the United States without special permission. Thirteen of the south and central American players are of draft age and apparently physically acceptable to the Army.

SCHOOLMAN DIES

Nanty-Glo, Pa., April 10 (AP)—School Superintendent Charles Homer Bowers, 57, died of a bullet wound in the head yesterday, when, Coroner Patrick McDermott reported, he shot himself with a high-powered rifle.

TO ADDRESS NURSES

Pittsburgh, April 10 (AP)—Right Rev. Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen, of Catholic university, Washington, will be one of the principal speakers here May 19-20-21 when 500 educators and nurses convene at a meeting of the National Council of Catholic Nurses of the United States.
